Farmers' Institute at New Plymouth.

Editor: DEMOCRAT-SENTINEL, Logan, Ohio.—The Vinton County Farmers' Institute was held in New Plymouth Dec. 6 and 7th. A large assemblage of people were present and all report a jolly, good time. It was not the writer's pleasure to be present at the Friday morning and afternoon sessions, but if they were as good as the rest they are about as good as could be.

The program for the evening session, held on Friday, Dec. 6, was carried out to the letter, with the exception of Mr. Dawson's recitation, which for some reason was omitted.

The other two sessions held on Saturday morning and afternoon were exceptionally good and interesting.

Friday and Saturday at noon, dinner was served by the ladies of the Presbyterian Church, at which place the Institute was held.

serve congratulations for the elegant program rendered

The music which was furnished by the Williamson Sisters Quartette, was good. Their selections were good and were well rendered. This was pronounced the best Institute ever held in Vinton County by all present. All were cordially invited to return to the next Institute to be held in December 1908. All united in favoring the return of the Speakers Messrs. Lowell Roudsbush and A. H. Judy. A vote of thanks was given Roudsbush and Judy for their efforts in trying to make this successful Institute, and it may be well to state that their efforts were not in vain.

The assemblage was honored on Saturday afternoon by the representation of Vinton County, in the person of Hon. J. R. Freiner, who spoke on "Inequalities of Taxation and some other Inequalities." This gentleman is an able speaker and a good representative. His course was in the right direction and he practices what he preaches. Well, here's success to the next Institute and may we all meet again next year.
